EGGS BY MACHINERY.

A PLAN TO MAKE THEM BETTER AND CHEAPER THAN HENS' CAN.

What the Manufactured Article Contains. How the Ingredients Are Secured—The Making of the Shell Is Really a Delicate Piece of Work.

Patents have been granted to James Storrey, of Kansas City, for the manufacture of eggs.

All the necessary machinery, which is not worth more than $500 at the outset, is in readiness to begin this overwhelming competition with the American men. If as much success attends the new venture as is anticipated by Mr. Storrey, the contest between the machine and the hen for supremacy in the egg producing business will be short, with the victory to the credit of the former.

Mr. Storrey's process is very simple, and yet he is prepared to manufacture an artificial egg that a connoisseur will find it difficult to distinguish either in appearance or taste from the prime product of a Plymouth Rock or Leghorn.

Lime, water, blood, milk, tallow, peas and one or two other vegetables are the ingredients of his compound. The shell and the yolk will not be difficult of manufacture. To make a good imitation of the "white" of the egg is the part that has required the most ingenuity to conquer, but Mr. Storrey has succeeded in solving the problem successfully.

MAKING THE YOLK.

The yolk of an egg is composed of 80 per cent. of yellow fat, 14 per cent. of caseine, about 5 per cent. albumen and water. The fat is common animal fat, and beef fat, which is very cheap, will be the chief ingredient. To this a liberal amount of caseine, which is that portion of the milk which produces butter and cheese, will be added, and albumen mainly from beef blood, together with water, will be mixed in small quantities. The color, already a yellow, will be treated with a chemical which will serve a double purpose of deepening the color and preserving the mixture in a semi-liquid state until it is cooked.

The "white" of the egg is about one-eighth pure albumen, and is a difficult substance to produce chemically. A substance that appears to the eye exactly similar, and which hardens and whitens when cooked, has been produced by a mixture of legumin, or vegetable albumen, extracted from common peas, and which forms one-fourth of the peas, a little albumen from beef blood, a trifle of sulphur, considerable gelatine and a chemical solution to prevent rapid decomposition, and which also whitens the whole bulk when subjected to heat, just as the egg becomes white when boiled.

As beef blood will be utilized in very large quantities in the big egg mill, a few special cars will be fitted up with tanks to bring the blood from the Chicago slaughter houses.

MAKING THE SHELL.

The shell will be perfectly imitated by a simple solution of lime, water and glue. The machinery that is required is needed mainly in putting the egg together. Every yolk will be first run into a mold to be properly shaped, and then dumped into a second mold, where the right quantity of the white is placed previously. This latter substance, being a gelatine like matter, will incase the yolk very readily. By a unique machine the meat is there enveloped in the shell.

The shell is only partially hardened when the egg is put into it, and as there is a liberal amount of glue added to the lime, the edges of the shell soon adhere to each other very tightly, leaving no traceable mark where they were joined. In order to make the imitation more completely successful, molds of several sizes will be introduced, making the eggs vary in bulk as do the products of any respectable flock of hens. The color of the shell will also be of two or three shades, rendering the likeness to the original still more striking.

Tests have been made which show that the artificial egg can be preserved for a month under proper conditions, and still taste as fresh as one laid by an ordinary hen. As all the ingredients of this reform egg are exceedingly cheap, it can be manufactured at the rate of about three cents a dozen. There will be no limit to the capacity of the novel mill, and families and boarding house keepers can be supplied in any quantities at prices so dazlingly small as to warrant immediate popularity.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Strange Wants.

They must have a strange herd of sheep in New Zealand, where a settler announced that he wanted "an industrious man to take charge of 3,000 sheep who could talk Spanish." He must have been related to the young lady who announced "that she could do all kinds of sewing and embroidery except music." A western "ad." reads: "Wanted an energetic young man for a retail store partly out of doors, partly behind the counters." A contemporary asks what will be the result when the door is shut.—Providence Journal.

Odds Is the Difference.

When a subject of the king of Dahomey is ailing he is bled from the arm. If this doesn't cure him he is laid on his face and two men walk up and down his spine. If this fails, his case is called incurable, and he is left to shift for himself as a very obstinate fellow.—Detroit Free Press.

OHIO POLITICS.

This is to be an important year in Ohio politics. An election is to be held for Governor and other State officers and for members of the Legislature. Campbell, the present Governor, is a Democrat, and will doubtless be nominated for re-election. Major McKinley is a candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket, and from present indications will be the nominee of that party. The Legislature, which is to be chosen, will elect a successor to John Sherman, whose term as United States Senator will expire with the next Congress.

The Farmers' Alliance definitely announces that it will place a State and Legislative ticket in the field this year. That is what gives the election unusual importance, as in a contest between the two old parties Sherman would be almost certain to be elected, as every corporation in the State would use its influence in his favor. He is not popular with the farmers, however, and the Alliance will make a vigorous effort to defeat him. The Alliance now numbers 35,000 in the State and the membership is increasing rapidly. The leaders hope to gain the balance of power in the Legislature and compel the defeat of Sherman. About twenty of the counties are very close politically, and fully forty counties have none but agricultural interests. This gives the Alliance a great advantage in the election of members of the Legislature, and the State ticket of that party will make the election for State officers (the most uncertain for years, as it upsets all the calculations of the politicians).

MASSACHUSETTS INDIGNANT.

General G. F. Butler, who was denounced as a "beast" when he cleaned the streets of New Orleans, and as a "brute" when he showed that the skins of paupers were made into slippers at the Tewkesbury almshouse, was recently ejected by force from the United States District Court at Boston. He was counsel for Mrs. Clarietta Johnson, who was being tried for perjury in a pension case. He had a controversy with Judge Carpenter, who presided in the United States District Court where the case was being tried, and by order of the Judge was forcibly expelled from the Court room. The Massachusetts Legislature felt that the sovereignty of the commonwealth had been violated by a Federal Judge, and a resolution was introduced calling upon the State's Attorney General to interfere. The resolution sets forth that a citizen of Massachusetts, Mrs. Clarietta Johnson, has been sentenced and imprisoned by order of a Federal Judge, while her legal counsel was forcibly prevented from representing her.

The resolution causes much excitement in the Bay State. It probably was suggested by General Butler, and as he has quite a following in Massachusetts it will result in a discussion of State rights in a State which sent Lodge and Hoar, the advocates of the Federal Elections or Force bill, to Congress.

The Proctor steel tower at the World's Columbian Exposition, says the Engineering News, is to be 1,155 feet in height and will resemble the Eiffel Tower in its general appearance. It will be hexagonal in plan, instead of square, however, and will have a larger base and start at a smaller angle with the vertical than the Eiffel Tower. The designer of the tower is David A. Proctor; the architects are Holabird & Roche and the engineer is Corydon T. Purdy, all of Chicago. Over 7,000 tons of steel will be used in its construction and the total cost is estimated at $3,000,000.

News has been received at Berlin that fifty per cent. of the young men in the frontier towns of Alsace-Lorraine eligible for conscription the coming year have made their escape from the country and enlisted in the French army.

The presiding officer of the Austrian Reichsrath has to be a linguist. Eight different languages are spoken by the members, and prejudices are so strong that the members of each nationality insist on speaking his own language.

Crop Prospects in Kansas.

Special to the Journal.

Chicago, May 4.—General Manager St. John, of the Rock Island road, returned today from a tour over the western lines of the system. According to his report the crop prospects were never better and he says Kansas alone shows a great increase in acreage. As for Oklahoma, he says it is prospering beyond the most sanguine expectations.

International Conference Y. M. C. A.

Special to the Journal.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 4.—The Twenty-first International Conference of General Secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association of North America, adjourned this evening, having been in session since last Thursday. Over 300 delegates, representing all parts of the United States and Canada, have been in attendance.

Italy Will Take No Part.

Special to the Journal.

Rome, May 4.—It has been decided from motives of economy that Italy will not take any official part in the Chicago Exposition, to which Americans should take no exception, as Italy took no official part in the French Exposition of 1889.

BY TELEGRAPH.

News of Importance From Home and Abroad.

A SUSPICIOUS CRAFT.

A Vessel Supposed to be Trading for the Chilean Insurgents.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—A Chronicle special from San Diego says: The Chilean steamer Estata, which came into the harbor yesterday is still here, taking a large amount of coal and supplies, and despite the fact that her captain claims the vessel is only a passenger steamer owned by a New York firm, the opinion is growing here that she is a transport and is after arms and ammunition for the Chilean insurgents and as soon as she is loaded here will take on board the cargo of the schooner Robert and Minnie, now lying at Santa Catalina islands, supposed to be loaded with munitions of war. A big Chilean war vessel is also reported outside the harbor, to-day, apparently awaiting the appearance of the Estata. There are about 90 men aboard the Estata and they all refuse to talk of their movements and destination. A large amount of supplies, which the Estata took on board to-day, including 45 cattle, 3,000 pounds of dressed meat and 800 tons of coal, is not regarded here as bearing out the Captain's statement that the Estata was bound for Nantaimo to load with coal.

The Mexican man-of-war Democrita is in the harbor and it is supposed that she was attracted here by the report that the schooner Catalina is a filibustering craft and that she would call outside the harbor of San Diego for a contingent of Lower California invaders.

It is said the Democrats will watch both mysterious vessels.

The President Leaving California.

Special to the Journal.

REDDING, May 4.—The President in his speech here said: "My fellow citizens: It is very pleasant as we near the northern line of California after having traversed the valleys of the South and are soon to leave the State in which we have had so much pleasurable intercourse with its people, to see here, as I have seen elsewhere, a multitude of contented, prosperous and happy people. I am assured you are here a homogeneous people, all Americans, all by birth, or by free choice, lovers of one flag and one constitution [cheers]. It seems to me as I look into the faces of these California audiences that life must be easier here than it is in old States. I see absolutely no evidences of want. Everyone seems to be well nourished. Your appearance gives evidence that the family board is well supplied and the gladness on your faces is evident that in your social relations everything is quiet, orderly and hopeful. I thank you for your friendly demonstrations. I wish it were possible for me to do more in exchange for all your great kindness than simply to say, thank you, but I do profoundly thank you and shall carry away from your State the very happiest impressions and the very pleasantest memories." [Cheers.]

SISSON, May 4.—The President's train arrived at 3 p. m. Big crowd, flags flying, cannon booming; made short speech thanking crowd. Wanamaker and Rusk spoke. Too cloudy to see Mt. Shasta. Was presented with a steel engraving of the same; also presented with lava ornaments taken from the foot of Mt. Shasta.

ASHLAND, Or., May 4.—The President and party arrived here shortly after 8 o'clock to-night, and received an enthusiastic welcome. A special committee of the Oregon Legislature boarded the train and welcomed the President to Oregon. The President made a happy response and also spoke to the crowd at the depot. After a stop of about thirty minutes at Ashland the Presidential train pulled out, preceded by a special train carrying the Legislative committee and prominent citizens.

Death of a Millionaire.

Special to the Journal.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Charles Pratt, a well known Standard Oil magnate, and Vice President of the Standard Oil Co., died suddenly at seven o'clock to-night, at the company's office. He left home in the morning in his usual health, but was taken ill with indigestion at 4 o'clock. Doctors Clark and Payne were summoned to attend him, but he continued to grow worse until three hours later, when heart failure set in and caused death. Pratt's wealth is estimated at $15,000,000. He has given large sums for educational purposes, including $1,000,000 to Pratt's Institute.

The Ivett Murder Trial.

Special to the Journal.

MENARD, May 4.—The Olsen trial was resumed this afternoon, as the defendant felt able to proceed. Olsen testified in his own behalf, and stated that he never had a quarrel with Ivett. He described all his movements for three days previous to the murder, and denied the charges of convict Bennett that there was a plot to murder Ivett. He said he could have killed Ivett at any time if he had wanted to. The prosecution did not cross-examine Olsen.

Easter Eggs.

The egg is the sign of the resurrection, which the Easter festival commemorates. The Jews place it on the Passover table, thereby indicating that their race is to be resurrected. The Persians and Druids both used it in their religious ceremonies, and not only the Russian, but the Mohammedan, on the early Easter morning gives the greeting, "Christ is risen," and the reply, "Christ is risen indeed," is followed by an exchange of eggs, and the egg is as well a feature in all the old Eastern legends, many of which are too improbable to even bear the semblance of truth; others might be true, inasmuch as truth is oftentimes stranger than fiction.—Emma J. Gray in Good Housekeeping.

Just Like a Girl.

Agnes, aged 4, called at an uptown grocery store the other day. "I want a tick of gum," she announced. After getting the desired article she remarked that she hadn't "any penny." "How do you expect to pay for your gum?" queried the vendor of delicacies. "Well," announced the youthful philosopher, "I will give you a kiss." The kiss was taken, but Agnes staid, and finally, flushed with success, she made another offer: "My cousin Ethel would like a tick, and I'll give you another kiss for it." Both girls chewed that afternoon.—Burlington (Vt.) Independent.

Spiders Are Industrious.

No small insect ever escapes from the web of a spider, a fact which is not to be wondered at when it is considered that an ordinary sized snare may contain as many as 120,000 viscid globules. The spinner is constantly engaged in repairing injuries to the web inflicted by wind, stray leaves or captured insects. Once a day the whole snare is subjected to rigorous examination, and any broken or loosened threads are adjusted.—Cornhill Magazine.

An Open Inclosure.

The following was related by the late Judge Breckenridge, of western Pennsylvania: "I once heard a Virginia lawyer object to an expression in one of the acts of the assembly of Pennsylvania, which read, 'That the state house yard in the city of Philadelphia should be surrounded by a brick wall and remain an open inclosure forever.'—Providence Journal.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula; her neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLISLE, Nauright, N. J.

ROBBED ON THE HIGHWAY.

Superintendent Westerfield Meets a Road Agent.

Saturday afternoon ex-Senator W. J. Westerfield, Superintendent of the Woolworth mill, was waylaid on the road near Silver City, by a masked man, and robbed of $6 90, all the money he had on his person. The highwayman wore a black cloth mask in which there was a hole for the right eye. He pointed a Colt's revolver at Mr. Westerfield's head and demanded the "sack." Mr. Westerfield informed him that this was not an election year, and moreover, that he and the sack were not often on the same side politically. The highwayman, who doubtless knew something about Nevada politics, did not dispute Mr. Westerfield's word, and apparently satisfied that he had no sack demanded his wallet, which the gentleman from Lyon reluctantly handed him, as it contained six dollars and nine ten cent pieces.

The Enterprise says while there is much sympathy for Mr. Westerfield's loss, and everybody deprecates the fact some men will steal, the return of road agents to this country shows faith in the continued prosperity of this section that is encouraging.

Thatcher's Minstrels.

Sunday evening, May 10th, George Thatcher's famous minstrels will appear at McKissick's Opera House. To Renosites their appearance is of more than ordinary interest, as the well known "Dixie Joe," to-day the highest salaried singer in minstrelsy, heads the corps of vocalists. It will be a source of great pleasure to Dick to appear once again before an audience composed of old-time friends and boyhood acquaintances, and we trust an equal amount of pleasure to those friends to note the rapid advancement Dick has made in his chosen profession since his last appearance in Reno. Aside from him the company is one of the strongest ever seen here, and includes such artists as George Thatcher, the prince of minstrel comedians; Bert Shepard, a comedian new to Reno, but nevertheless a good one; John A. Coleman, the famous English comedian and eccentric dancer; Jay Quigley, George Lewis and Ed Marble. The vocalists beside Dick are Raymond Moore, another slope singer; H. W. Frillman, the eminent basso, who might well claim the coast as his residence from his long career in these parts; Theo. Lewis, baritone, and W. A. Patterson. Wood and Shepard, Gregory and Elmar, Frank La Mondue and others introduce novel special acts, making a programme of unequalled merit and excellence.

Seriously Injured.

Sunday afternoon as H. W. Higgins and his son Jerome were driving in the Western Addition, above the school house, one of the horse's feet became entangled in a piece of belting wire. The animal kicked in trying to extricate his foot and broke the front part of the buggy to pieces. The boy jumped out and escaped uninjured. Mr. Higgins, who held the lines, jumped from the buggy a moment later, but as he did so the horse started to run, pulling him heavily to the ground, and breaking one of his legs in two places, one fracture being just below the knee and the other a few inches above the ankle. Dr. Thoma was called to attend him and reduced the fracture. Mr. Higgins suffered much pain Sunday night, but last evening was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

Grand Jury Report.

Reno, May 4, 1891.

In the District Court, State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.

To the Hon. A. E. Cheney, District Judge of the State of Nevada:

Your Grand Jury, impeached to serve at present session, beg leave to report at this time that we have examined three cases and have found true bills in each and every case, viz:

Two bills for burglary and one for robbery.

Our attention has been called to the non-observance of the so-called 12 o'clock closing law, and we recommend that the officers enforce the law in every instance.

W. R. CHAMBERLAIN, Foreman.

Toledo, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions. Yours truly,
